

Join the Bergen County Historical Society
for a Feast for All Senses, Sat., June 20, 2009

From Beauty to the Eye, the Touch and the Nose at the exquisite New York Botanical Gardens Rose Festival to an incomparable taste of Italy on world-famous Arthur Avenue, you will enjoy a buffet of colors & scents, textures & flavors, bucolic splendor & urban energy on Saturday, June 20.

Travel across the Hudson River to two unique oases in the urban landscape of the Metropolitan Area as the Bergen County Historical Society tours the New York Botanical Gardens. For $79 per person, enjoy coach transportation with admission to the Botanical Gardens for a private tour by tram including the Rose Festival at the Peggy Rockefeller Garden. Then you can browse along Arthur Avenue and have yourself an Italian delicacy. You will also be helping the Bergen County Historical Society carry on its efforts to preserve history.

There will be pick-ups at Clifton City Hall and 560 Sylvan Ave. (9W) in Englewood Cliffs. Other stops may be added. Contact Mainly Meetings Travel at 201-568-2146 or email Linda@MainlyMeetingsTravel.com for reservations.
