Vanderbilt Mansion Replaces FDR Home for Tour Following Gourmet Luncheon at the Culinary Institute of America

Due to a scheduling problem, the visit to the Franklin Roosevelt Estate has been canceled.

The luncheon at the Culinary Institute of America will still be served ... now followed by a tour of the magnificent Frederick Vanderbilt Mansion ... a monument to the Gilded Age of the 19th Century.

The Culinary Institute of America (CIA) is one of the premiere gourmet cooking and restaurant management schools in the U.S., where the “Iron Chefs” of the future enter their profession. The four-course presentation includes:

- Rigatoni with spinach, sun-dried tomatoes, sausage & feta cheese
  - American Bounty Caesar Salad
- Parmesan Supreme of Chicken stuffed with Mushrooms & Merlot Sauce Hominy Sun-dried Tomato Gratin
  - Chef’s choice of vegetables.
- Seasonal Fruit Cobbler with Vanilla Ice Cream.

No substitutions permitted.

The cost of $105 per person includes transportation, admission to both locations, luncheon at the Culinary Institute and a donation to the BCHS. Reservations must be made by March 31 and payment of $105 per person must be received by Mainly Meetings Travel LLC, 535 Floyd St., Englewood Cliffs, NJ 07632 by April 10, 2009. Departures from Nutley Library, Clifton City Hall parking lot, New Bridge and 560 Sylvan Ave. (Rte. 9W) in Englewood Cliffs.
